U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE,

BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY.—CIRCULAR NO. 106.

A. D. MELVIN, CHIEF OF BUREAU.

PUBLICATIONS OF THE BUREAU OF ANIMAL INDUSTRY.

This circular has been compiled to meet a growing demand for a list of publications of the Bureau of Animal Industry. It presents a complete list of the regular series of annual reports, bulletins, and circulars of the Bureau up to April 1, 1907, but it has been considered impracticable and unnecessary to make the list complete as regards publications of a miscellaneous character, reprints, etc. It is believed, however, that all publications of any general interest or importance at the present time have been included. In addition to publications prepared by this Bureau, some other publications of the Department bearing on the subject of the animal industry have been included.

Publications for which no price is indicated will be sent free of charge to persons in the United States, so long as the editions permit, on application to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.

Applications for publications to which a price is affixed should be made to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C., the official designated by law to sell Government publications. All payments should be made to him and not to the Department of Agriculture, and should be sent by postal money order, express order, or New York draft. Currency may be sent at the sender's risk, but postage stamps, foreign money, and uncertified checks will not be accepted. No charge is made for postage on documents forwarded to points in the United States, Guam, Hawaii, the Philippine Islands, or Porto Rico, or to Canada, Cuba, or Mexico. To other countries the regular rate of postage is charged, and remittances must cover such postage. To residents of foreign countries the price of 6 cents a copy, including postage, has been fixed for publications for which no price is indicated in the list.

The mailing list of the Bureau is limited to libraries, educational institutions, the press, State and foreign officials connected with agriculture, exchanges, and persons who are rendering tangible service to the Department either by active cooperation in its work or as special correspondents. Owing to the variety of subjects on which publications are issued, the mailing list is classified according to subjects, professions, etc., and the Bureau keeps no list to which all its publications are sent.

Publications which are available, whether marked with a price or not, will be furnished free by the Bureau to those entitled to be on its mailing list. Requests of this nature, as well as publications sent in exchange, should be addressed directly to the Bureau.

The Bureau has a small reserve supply of the publications marked by an asterisk (*), and copies will be supplied, as long as available, to libraries and investigators in order to complete their files or for purposes of special importance.

In addition to the publications listed in this circular the Bureau of Animal Industry has issued a large number of orders and regulations concerning the transportation, quarantine, inspection, etc., of live stock, the inspection of meats and meat-food products which are the subjects of interstate and foreign commerce, the inspection and certification of dairy products for export, and the inspection of renovated butter. It is not deemed desirable to list these here, as many of them are obsolete or out of print, and all regulations are included in the annual reports. Persons desiring the current regulations governing any of these matters should apply to the Bureau.

The Department's Monthly List of Publications, which announces publications issued and gives information as to how they may be obtained, will be sent regularly without charge to all who apply for it.

A. D. MELVIN,
Chief of Bureau.

JAMES WILSON,
